

Q: What analysis does the results import function allow for?

A: The results import function allows you to import the result obtained from the previous analysis to use it in the next analysis. In stress analysis, the results to be imported include displacement, stress, and strain.

Please refer to the second table in the help menu below for more information:

Home>What Femtet Can Do>Details of Analysis Function>Multiphysics Analyses by Femtet.