Question 1

Q: Why does the result of the harmonic analysis in a piezoelectric analysis indicate that the peak of a resultant displacement is divided around the resonant frequency?

A: That is because the absolute value of the real part of a displacement is displayed.

Please refer to the help menu below for more information.
Home>FAQ>A10. Peak of displacement is divided at resonant frequency